

A NEW FUTURE FOR BLACK WOMEN'S HEALTH STARTS WITH YOU

We demand better outcomes for Black women's health – and with your help, we can learn how to make it happen. Your participation today is critical in reshaping the health outcomes for Black women for generations to come.

The VOICES of Black Women study, led by the American Cancer Society, is intentionally created with Black women at its center. We aim to better understand health conditions like cancer and how to improve health circumstances for Black women across the country.

We are rallying 100,000 Black women willing to lend their voices, be heard on a massive scale, and effect positive changes in the health of their communities. It takes a village to create meaningful change, and we need YOUR voice to make the most impact possible.
